THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

A BUSY TIME AMONG THE DANCING SET. One week seems to outdo the other in point of er devising something new for the amusement of her ests if not for her own satisfaction. The week has seen a busy one, including Freu Lilli Lehman's ap-issence for the first time this seeson in German spera; the fashionable charity matine at Daly's Theatre, admirably planned by Miss Leavy; Mrs. W. D. Sloane's dinner, Mrs .Kernochan's dinner the second Assembly Ball, the surprise party at Mrs. W. K. Vanderbill's, not to note nightly dinners, many afternoons at home and dancing classes, which are the more common occurrences of the weeks throughout the season.

Mrs. Sloane's dance was given for her young niece Miss Louise Shepard, a debutante of this season, and like all her entertainments, it was highly enjoyable. The favors for the cotillon were tasteful and handsome, but not such as to create comment by excessive expenditure. Mrs. Sloane, in her gown of blue tulle, looked as young as many of her rosebud guests, and might have passed for one, save for the splendid Shepard was in rose pink tulle. The cotillon was led by Thomas Howard, who wore knee-breeches of black satin, long black silk stockings, and dancing pumps, did also John Furman, E. C. Potter, James M. bury, Hamilton Cary and others, about a dozen men in all, who are endeavoring to make popular the es of our ancestors for evening dress.

The dinner dance, the second of series of four, was given by Mrs. J. Frederick Kornochan at her home in Madison Square on Tuesday night. Much the same young set ded the dinners given by Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Bend attended the dinners given by Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Bend and Mrs. Wilson as on the previous occasion, although changed about somewhat. The next dance of this series will occur at the home of Mrs. Wilson on Tues-day night, and the last on the want Willfam Astor's. For that occasion Mrs. Astor has issued a large number of extra invitations, so that it will partake somewhat of the nature of ball. Mrs. George S. Bowdoin will give another dance on February 12.

It might seem that after four weeks of constant outante would be able to appear at the Assembly, but the spirits of youth are not to be faunted, and with fresh dresses, and with keen relish for every one of the pleasures of their first season the debutantes were there and made up the prevailing Their older sisters gracefully retired for the while, showing a generous spirit. Only three of the reception committee were present—Mrs. William Astor, Mrs. F. Rhinelander Jones and John Wilmerding. Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan at the last minute was prevented from acting as one of the hostesses. Mrs. Astor were a gown of dark green brocade and her famous riviere of diamonds, the coronet-like comb of pearls and diamonds, the sorgeous stomacher of the latter gems, and two orna-ments of great value bought at the sale of the French brooch or sun of rubies and diamends, once worn by Diane de Poictiers, and the other a shoulder knot made for Cardinal Richelieu and afterward the property of Louis XIV. Both of these ornaments are white satin and lace without jewels, and Mrs. Jones Keuntre wore a handsome gown of gray satin and tulle, with many diamonds; Mrs. James Waterbury black tulle; Mrs. Edmund Baylies, light-blue tulle: Mrs. Frederick Kernochan, white satin and tull trimmed with white roses and green leaves; Mrs. Rogers, black velvet and diamonds; Miss Daisy Hamilton, drab culle; Miss Georgie Wilmerding, white tulie dotted with crystals; Miss Bend, white tulle; Miss Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Hargous, also white. han wore handsome jewels.

The surprise party at Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt's edingly well arranged, and the "surprise" wa taken in the best spirits. The guests assembled promptly, and when all had arrived marched down stairs in procession to greet Mrs. Vanderbilt, who wore white satin and her splendid pearls. Mrs. Sleane was in blue, wearing for a coreage decoration a beautiful diamond and ruby ernament in the shape of a butterfly.

Mrs. William Jay was in pink satin, with a very long train; Mrs. Van Reusselaer Oruger in black and white striped satin. Mrs. James Kerncehan were a superb erange velvet; Mrs. August Belmont, jr., lilao satis and yellow gauze, and Mrs. Prescott Lawrence, gray tin. The cotillon began at midnight, The oward leading with Mrs. Vanderbilt. The fav were all worked with the date, were silved bon-hon boxes, satin bags filled with sweetmeat round satin pincushions, with pins about the edges. Supper was served at 1 o'clock.

There will be dances every evening of the coming wheek, To-morrow night Mrs. Cornelius Vander-bilt's small dance will take place, and also Madison-ave., for Miss Hamilton; Tuesday night th ner-dance at Mrs. Wilson's, Wednesday night Mrs. Fish's dinner-dance, and on Thursday Mrs. Elbridge Gerry's cotilion. These are the most important of these social gatherings. Another interesting incident of the week will be the wedding of Miss Cornelia relt to Paron Clemens Zedlitz, in St. Thomas' Church on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. wear his effective Uhlan uniform, and there will be some handsome bridesmalds, including season. The reception at the Hotel Bristol will include a few intimate friends besides relatives. Barron Zedlitz has presented his fiances with some magnificent jewels.

Among the dances in prospect not previously ar ced is one to be given by Mrs. Frederic Goodridge for her daughter on February 18. Mrs. Ames Van Wart will give a large theatre party followed by a supper and dance on St. Valentine's night.

In the course of the week there has been announced in England the engagement of Mrs. Arthur Pos arthur Hugh Smith-Barry, M. P. for Huntingdon. Mrs. Post is one of the three beautiful daughters o General Wadsworth, of Genesco, N. Y., her sisters being Mrs. Adair and Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Post's husband, a son of John A. Post, of this city, died about six years ago. Like her sister Mrs. Adair, who was Mrs. Ritchie, by her first marriage, Mrs. has been conspicuous in the fashionable world ondon. She is still a young woman in the

The arrangements for the costume reception of Feb ruary 5 are going forward most favorably. Henry Cannon is urging all his friends in society to get hand some costumes, and tells them that they will have a ice to wear them again at a fancy dress ball which J. J. Van Alen is to give at Newport next summer One debutante will go as the Puritan maiden Priscilla another as Elsa, clad in her gorgeous wedding gown. One of the patronesses is having a rich gown of the Elizabethan period made, while a prominent matron will wear a Spanish court dress of the time of Ferdinand and Isabella. A well-known artist has a superb costume worn by a Moorish nobleman two centuries ago, which he proposes to den for the occa-sion, and many other people are having costumes de-signed by leading artists and made by prominent cos-tumers. Mrs. Elliett Rooseveit's party, in Old Eng-lish costumes, will dance the "Sir Roger de Coverly." while Mrs. R. H. Hunt's party will tread the more will be directed by Mrs. Arthur Sherwood, and the Venetian by Mrs. Nichelas Fish. F. Hopkinson Smith, W. M. Chase, Lauis C. Tiffany and other artists will personally decorate the Academy of Design, where the reception will take place.

At the residence of James E. Lawrence Smith, o on, his daughter, Miss Ella B. Smith, was married to Devereaux Emmet, a son of William Emmet, and brother of Rosina Emmet Sherwood, the artist. The ceremony took place in the drawing-room before a screen of smilax, orange trees and mistletoe. The Rev. Dr. W. S. Rainsford, of St. George's Church, efficiated. VETERANS FIGHTING ONE ANOTHER.

TROUBLE BETWEEN THE OLD AND NEW ORGANI. ZATIONS IN THE 7TH REGIMENT.

The fight for the supremacy between the old 7th Regiment veterans' organization and the new one has been carried into the courts and there is a prospect that in the course of time one phase, at least, of the contest will be settled by judicial decree. An in-junction pendente lite was obtained from Justice Patterson, of the Supreme Court, yesterday on behalf of the old organization known as the Veterans of the 7th Regiment, restraining the officers of the regiment, the trustees of the armory fund and Colonel Emmons Clark, individually, from interfering with peaceable and exclusive use, enjoyment and occupancy of 'the Veteran Room' in the armory, or doing or permitting anything to be done impairing the plain tiffs' right to the room, and from interfering with

The first object of obtaining the injunction at this time was to prevent the younger veteran society from holding its annual meeting last evening in the Veteran Room, as had been proposed. This object was attained. Major Asa Bird Gardiner, counsel for the old association, was at the armory early in the even-ing and served the officers and the trustees, as they arrived, with copies of the injunction order and of the complaint in the suit for a permanent injunction which has just been begun.

The younger association held a large meeting in the Roard of Officers' room. The injunction suit was talked over, and it was resolved to fight it to the manded the regiment many years ago, presided. Re-ports were read showing that there are 177 names on the roll and a balance in the treasury of $597 21. The Executive Committee was charged with making arrangements for the next meeting, which will pro arrangements for the new meeting, which will ably be held in May. The "Honorable and Ve Comrades" afterward gathered around a greaning laden with delicacles and pledged the new so while vowing eternal opposition to the old one, eral Louis Fitzgerald and many other old office the regiment were present.

Meantime the Executive Committee of the old sectory was holding a meeting undisturbed in the "Veteran Room," at which only routine business was transacted.

The 7th Regiment Veteran Club, organized for so-cial purposes, has been incorporated. Plans for a club-house have been prepared by a well-known architect and a financial scheme formulated to in-notable wedding took place in Brooklyn on Christmas day, and has only now become generally known. The contracting parties were the Rev. Peyton G. Bowman, of Cecil County, Maryland, and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Norris, of Brooklyn. The united ages of the bride and bridegroom aggregate 158 years, each being seventy-nine. They met at the home of the Rev. George R. Kramer, No. 833 Lafayette-ave. Mr. Kramer is paster of the church which Mrs. Norris attends, and at a series of meetings held in his church the pair became acquainted and formed an attachment which led to their marriage. A large number of the friends of both were present to witness the ceren The couple went to the home of the bridegroom for a short time and then returned to Brooklyn.

The Rev. Peyton G. Bowman was born in the State of Virginia in 1809. He entered the ministry rather early in life, and was for many years a successful Methodist preacher. He did much effective work for the Methodist denomination, but In 1807, while on a visit to New-York, he modified his faith so far as to deay the dogma of the immortality of the soul and the eternal misery of the wicked. He is also the authout of numerous writings on the subject of 'Christ's pro-millennial coming and conditional immortality. Mrs. Elizabeth H. Norris is the widow of a Methodist preacher. Washington, Jan. 26 (Special).—The President's wife gave a reception to-day from 3 to 5 o'clock. A drizzling rain fell all the afternoon, but probably nothing short of a flood would dampen the arder of a White crowd bent on seeing the President's wife. Colonel Wilson and Lieutenant Duvalle presented vis itors to Mrs. Cleveland and her assistants, the wife of the Chief Justice and Mrs. Polsom. Mrs. Cleveland's toilet was a gown of elive-green plush, with trimmings of gold lace, girdle and necklace of gold beads. She the crowds by her hearty hand-grasp and smiling face. It was Mrs. Fuller's first experience in the and she entered into the spirit of hand-shaking with vigorous cordiality. She were a gown of stone-color silk, with trimmings of cut steel. It was plain to see that most of the visitors were strangers, but they felt quite at home in the White House. Among those in and her guest, Mrs. Barney, of New-York; Miss Flor-ence Bayard, Miss Grace Fuller, Mrs. Lamont, General Greely, Secretary Whitney, Mrs. Kearney Warren, Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. and Miss Steele, Mrs. and Miss Black, Mrs. and Miss French and Mrs. Romero. Chief Justice Fuller stood a little back, leaning easily against the wall, and for an hour watched the great American public shake hands with the mistress of the White House. the Blue Room were Mrs. Dickinson, Mrs.

RENEWING THE ATTACK ON VASSAR HOSPITAL. Poughkeepsie, Jan. 26 (Special).-Dr. J. G. Por cous,, a leading physician of this city, prints a care this evening, reiterating some of his charges against the management of the Vassar Hospital. Dr. John P. Wilson in a letter to Mr. Booth, a trustee of the hospital, urges the appointment of Edward V. Vincent, now clerk of the Common Council, to the position of superintendent of the hospital, in place of Dr. Bayly, at a salary of $2,000 per annum, alleging that enough money would be saved by such a course to largely to the accommodations of the institution. Dr. Wilson is not a member of the medical board. The eight physicians who are members of the board and who signed the report standing by Dr. Bayly are all widely and favorably known.

MRS. HARRISON MAY STAY HERE SOME DAYS Mrs. Harrison spent the greater part of yesterday shopping with her daughter, Mrs. McKee. They left the Glisey House shortly after 10 o'clock, and did not return until late in the afternoon. While she was out a number of visitors called and left their cards Mr. McKee expects to return to Indianapolis to-mor-row or the next day, but Mrs. Harrison may remain in this city for a week or more.

THE CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH IN THE REICHSTAG.

GERMANY HAND-IN-HAND WITH ENGLAND IN AFRICA, AND SAMOA ALSO-TIME MEANS MONEY AND BLOOD SAVED-REPLYING

TO AN OPPOSITION TAUNT. Copyright: 1889: By The New-York Associated Press.
Berlin, Jan. 26.—After discussion in the Reichstag to-day the East Africa bill was referred to a committee of twenty-one of the members, under urgency. The measure will be reported and read a second time

The interest in to-day's debate centred in speech of Prince Bismarck, which was delivered with inusual animation, an easy flow of words, fewer pauses than usual and unmistakable carnestness. cellor opened with a reference to the allusions of Herr Bamberger and Dr. Windthorst making him responsible for everything happening in East Africa He said he could not undertake to be responsible for everything and that something must be left to the officials sent there to settle affairs. He then continued:

"I will tell the Reichstag honestly how far I intend to go and I will not go a heir's breadth further. The first speaker touched on the question of the position we take up toward foreign Powers. On that point I can only say that we have proceeded and shall ever proceed solely in agreement with England, the greatest coionial Power of the world. I deny, therefore, emphatically the suggestion that we have any intention to proceed against the Sultan of Zanzibar in opposition to the wishes of England in cord with England and advance hand in hand with her. (Cheers.) We are absolutely resolved to be one with the English Government and to uphold the unity we have shared with the English in Africa-(Cheers.) The only unpleasantness that has arisen has been with subordinate officials for whom the Government neither cares nor will be responsible.

"Time gained on this question is not only meney, but blood gained. . . The blockade has less of military than of political significance. The chief thing was to prove to the natives the unity existing be-tween Germany and England, and also to show European Powers that the concert was complete. If rivalry exists neither of the two Powers will have a special halo of prestige. We have concluded no treaties with England, but can regard her as an old historic ally, with whom we lave been in touch for 150 years, even on colonial questions." NOT YET A COLONIAL MAN.

The Chancellor next adverted to the criticism of Herr Bamberger taunting him with his change of colonial policy. He read passages from speeches made in 1885, and admitted that he had departed from the opinions therein expressed, but his present action was dictated sclely by immediate circumstances. "For the sake of two million marks," he continued, "I cannet throw myself against the great impulse of the nation or offer opposition to the will of the whole country. this day I am not a colonial man. I entertain the gravest apprehensions on the subject, but have been compelled to yield to the general demand of the na-At all events the coast territory acquired by the German company is very important and must be retained. I cannot burden myself with the represent of posterity that I failed to protect Germans and man possessions. We cannot look for results in three months-no, nor in three years. Perhaps thirty years hence the people may bitterly rue to-day's neglect of duty. If the locomotive of empire has years hence the people may blitterly rue to-day's neglect of duty. If the locomotive of empire has struck out a track for itself I will not be the one to throw stones in its way."

Referring next to Herr Ramberger's remarks concerning Southwest Africa, he said he could inform that Deputy—who had by a recent speech already done considerable financial burt to the West Africa colonies, and who valued the titles of his compatriots in those regions at so low a rate—that for those same "worthless" claims several millions of marks had been offered by Englishmen to the German holders. A QUESTION OF CIVILIZATION.

Returning to the bill, he held of the a question was not Africa Company, but of civilization. They must keep their eyes fixed on the suppression of the slave trade and must obtain mastery of the traffic. A further task before them was the utilizatrafile. A further task before them was the utilization of the fertile strip on the East African coast. For the laying out of plantations it offered really promising prospects. If Germany, who yearly spends 200,000,000 marks on coffee, wood, tobacco, ofc., could save a tenth or even a twentieth part of that sum by using the product of her own colonies, there was already interest on the capital invested.

"After Dr. Windthorst's speech," continued Prince Bismarck, "I consider the assept of the Reichstag certain, but should like the proceedings expedited, because we might have reason to regret delay within

THE ABDUCTOR OF MISS ELIAS CONVICTED. The sensational trial of the merchant, Moeller, who was charged with abducting a minor, Miss Elias, a New-York heiress, was concluded in the Cassel Court to-day. The trial, which lasted three days, result in the conviction of Moeller, who was sentenced nine months' imprisonment. A BOOM ON THE BOURSEL

A salient feature of business on the Bourse during the week has been the sustained advance in mining the week has been the matained savance in mining shares and bank stocks. Shares of industrial concerns, especially from and steel works, have also experienced a boom on the strength of the report that the English and German steel rail-makers have ronewed their convention. The price of steel rails has risen to 132 marks per ton, the producing cost in Germany being only 90 marks.

STUDENTS OFFENDED AT THE EMPEROR. The celebration of the Emperor's birthday to-morrow will be opened by the trumpeters of the Guards after reveille, playing a hymn from the cupola of the palace chapel. A salute of 101 guns will be fired at noon. Some of the students of the Univer-sity proposed to arrange a torchlight procession, but sity proposed to arrange a torchlight procession, but the Emperor intimated that he did not desire any public manifestation. A section of the students, irritated by the remarks which the Emperor recently addressed to Rector Gebhardt, propose to held a hos-tile demonstration in front of the palace. Professor Gebhardt says that the Emperor severely commented upon the immoral life of the students and their ten-dency toward irreligion. He finished by denoun-ing the practice of duelling, saying: "Your students should frequent churches rather than beer shops and fencing saloons."

P.T. BARNUM MAKES A COBRECTION.

To the Aditor of The Tribune. Sir: Your reporter, in giving an account to-day of an interview with me last night, no doubt intended to make it thoroughly correct. Indeed, it is so in the main. I have never seen the proprietor of the armory building at the junction of Broadway, Sixth-ave. and Thirty-fifth-st., but I understand from Mr. Bailey, my pariner, that the price asked for a lease was equivalent to purchasing it for a million of dol-lars. The owner now says the property is not for sale, and he feels injured to have it so represented. I hope, therefore, you will kindly make the correction Mr. Bailey and I fully intend to erect proper museums in this and other cities at an early day. are ready to do so there will be no trouble in securing good sites, so long as we have the money to pay for them.

RUSSELL B. HARRISON IN HELENA, MONTANA. Helena, Mont., Jan. 2d (Special).-The Republicans of Montana are anxious to establish at Helena a morning newspaper of ability and enterprise, which will reflect credit upon the party. Russell B. Har-rison is in the city with an Associated Press franchise. A daily paper called "The Record" was run here dur ing the campaign by the Republicans, made a good fight and gained a foothold as a permanent institution, out it has no franchise and has been an expensive experiment for its backers. An effort is being made to buy this plant and to use Mr. Harrison's franchise.

Persons connected with "The Record," however, who do not desire to go into the new deal have placed the purchase price for the property at a high figure, and the transfer hangs fire.

Persons who bought yesterday evening's edition of 'The World" were regaled with a preposterous story of the alleged blackballing of Colonel Robert J. Ingersoil by the club of The Pla, ers. Nobody could be silly enough to believe such rubbish. The whole thing is a "fake," clumsily manufactured by some stupid reporter. Colonel Ingersoll's name was never pro-posed for membership in the club.

THE SUMATRA TOBACCO FRAUDS. SECRETARY PAIRCHILD BEGINS AN INVESTIGA-

TION AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE. Acting Appraiser Steams left the city for Boston last night, and will not return until Tuesday. It was stated that he had gone on private business.

Secretary Fairchild spent the greater part of yester-Custom House, looking over the reports of Special Agent Simmons relating to the Sumatra tobacco frauds, as bearing upon the conduct of Examiners Sturges and Hamill, who have been discharged, and against whom threats of criminal prose-cution by the Government have been made. Mr. Fairchild pleasantly received The Tribune reporter, and apparently in an unreserved manner talked of his mission here and the reasons for the changes in the Appraiser's Stores.

"Is it true that Examiners Sturges and Hamill are to be criminally proceeded against!" asked the re-

"That is not determined, but it's possible," said the Secretary. "I am going into a thorough investigation of the reported frauds in the tobacco cases, to ascertain to what extent Sumatra tobacco cases, to ascertain to what extent Sumatra tobacco that should have paid 75 per cent duty was admitted under the 25 per cent rate."

"You were quoted as saying that not one single protest had been filed by New-York importers with the Treasury Department against the payment of duties upon a fetest of their sugars by Boston exam-iners."

duties upon a metest of their sugars by Boston examiners."

"At the time that I made that statement I did not know that any protests had been filed. That there have been is shown by the replies to them by Mr. Maynard and the Chief of the Division of Customs. It is stated that there have been forty-six protests of various firms filed. This would be possible without their being called to my attention, as they go to the Chief of Customs. Now is it not a remarkable fact that all of the Boston refiners, whose sugars were rated higher by the polariscope test than those here, have declared that they were not above the actual grade? And is it not as remarkable that those of New-York, whose sugars were rated much lower, never complained of them being rated too high or too low;"

Mr. Fairchild said that the present movement was

Mr. Fairchild said that the present movement was in no sense political, but to obtain better administration of the service at this port. His stay in New-York, he said, was not upon the business connected with the Appraiser's office alone, and that he should return to Washington te-morrow.

JAMES E. QUINN FOUNDS A NEW ORDER. For six months James E. Quinn, ex-master work-man of District Assembly No. 49, Knights of Labor, of this city, backed by General Master Workman V. Powderly, has fought tooth and nail for supremacy in his district, which was rent into factions by arbitrary way of conducting affairs. At the last election of the district George E. Murray, of the Excelsior Labor Club, was elected master workman in his stead, and Quinn retired to private life, with the privilege of working for his living.

But this did not suit him, and for the last two weeks he has been considering the advisability of following the example of his arch-enemies, the Anti-Home Club, and setting up as a leader in a new Home Club, and setting up as a leader in a new order. In pursuance of this new resolve James E. Quian, Timothy Quinn, William Horan, William A. Brown, and others, composing the Home Club, separated from the Knights of Labor, and with the Americus Club, a once powerful organization, set themselves up as "Founders of the Order." Thomas B. McGuire, a member of the Americus Club, was expelled from the new organization, because of his partiality for T. V. Powderly.

HE HAD MARRIED HIS STEPMOTHER. Early in April, 1885, Heinrich Hahn, an aged man living in Newark, died. He had lived happily with his second wife, Barbara, and desiring to see her well provided for he called his adult son, Peter, to his bedside before dying and desired him to marry his stepmother. The promise was given, and shortly after his death the couple were married. On Friday some neighbors who knew the story and had had difficulty with the Hahns went to a justice's office and had them arrested. The woman is sixty-eight and the husband forty-two. The arrest was made under the common law, which forbids such marriages under penalty of $500 fine or eighteen months' im-prisonment, or both. The two gave ball.

REAT HER HUSBAND WITH A SHOVEL Mrs. Catharine Scully, a middle-aged woman, ednesday beat her husband, Patrick Scully, on the head with a shovel at their home, No. 528 West Twenty-eighth-st, and indicted injuries which may cause his death. Captain Murphy heard of the fight yesterday, and finding Scully in a dangerous condi-tion, had him removed to Bellevus Hospital. Mrs. Scully was arrested. Justice Patterson, at the ferson Market Court, yesterday committed her to jail to await the result of her husband's injuries.

PORMAL OPENING OF THE SAGAMORE CLUB. The Sagamore Club opened its new club-house, at No. 2,008 Firth-ave., last night. The club is an effshoot of the Hariem Democratic Club, many of its members having second from that organization because of its indorsement stitution prohibits it from ever entering into local con-tests as a body, its members are Tammany warriors almost to a man. The club has been open almost a week inbut last night was the formal opening, and more than 500 persons accepted the special invitation to be present. Speeches were made by the president, Major John P. McNuity, and by Congressman Ashbel P. Fitch.

MISS FANNY DAVENPORT ILL.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26 (Special).-Miss Fanny Daven-ert was unable to appear in "La Tosca" at the Grand Opera House to-night. Ill-health is the cause. She was also unable to give a performance on Tuesday night last. She expects to be able to fill next week's engagement at Washington. A rumor was circulated in theatrical circles here that Miss Davenport's indisposition was due to anti-fat remedies, which it was said had been taken too frequently. This was denied to-night by members of her company who say that Miss Davenport contracted a cold on Sunday

CITY ALUMNI AT DINNER.

SPEECHES BY PRESIDENT WEBB AND OTHERS-"PROGRESSIVE EMULATION" AT DELMONICO'S.

The annual dinner of the Associate Alumni of the College of the City of New-York was held last night at Delmonico's. Nearly 200 members and guests were present. President Webb presided. Among those present were Professor Newcomb, Professor Scott, Professor H. P. Johnston, M. Fiston, M. Tobreyon, Professor Herberman, James Godwin, J. Edward Simmons, F. W. Devoe, J. Seaver Page, City Superintendent Jasper, Commissioner D. Lowber Smith, Christopher Heiser, Judge Nehrbas, Professor Weiner, M. H. Cardoso, G. H. Crawford, J. C. Mc Creery, J. Van Beckton, Mr. Olcott, E. Lauterbach G. M. Elliott, H. S. Carr, Adolph P. Sanger, Professor Woolfe, E. F. Hyde, Richard M. Bowker and G. M.

The motto on the bill of fare was: "There is here sir, such a progressive emulation." There certainly was a "progressive emulation" of speech and song in the dinner which was in every way a success. Presi "The College." John Jasper's subject was "Then and Now," and on that text he hung a taking and much-applauded speech. Adolph L. Sanger spoke on "The New Atlantes"

Adolph L. Sanger spoke on "The New Allantes" and Professor H. P. Johnston, in his response to "Colleges Here and There," presented a graphic picture of what may be called "educational America." In the absence of President Hunter, Professor Woolfe responded ably to "Our Recent Twin Sistet." Mayor Grant was expected to be present at the dinner, but other engagements prevented him from accepting the invitation sent to him. If the undergraduates of the College of the City of New-York pursue their course with but half the enthusiasm displayed by the alumni at their annual dinner they are bound, by the attributes of good fellowinip as well as by that of good scholarship, to become popular and useful citizens of the American Republic.

THE FIRE RECORD.

A BUFFALO CHURCH BURNED! Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 26.—About 11 o'clock to-day fire broke out in the Polish Church of St. Adalbert, East Buffalo. The flames spread with great rapidity and the interior of the structure was all ablaze whe the firemen arrived. In a short time the roof caught fire and fell in with a crash. A portion of the walls also fell, and the building was practically ruined. A large crowd, mainly of excised Polanders, gathered in the vicinity, and extra police were summoned to the scene.

INCENDIARY FIRE AT NEW-HAVEN. New-Haven, Conn., Jan. 26.—Early this morning the police extinguished a small fire in the hardware store of S. S. Mallet, in the fifth story of the Carfield Block. The circumstances were suspicious and the police arrested R. F. Mallet, charging him with having started the fire. The case went over. Mailet admits firing the building, but says he was LIVELY FLAMES IN A DYEING HOUSE.

A fire broke out last evening from some unknown cause in the skin-dressing and wool-dyeing factory of F. S. Kling, at Reymond and Tillary sta, Brocklyn, causing a loss in stock of $10,000. The damage to the building, owned by Peter Young, was $200. The losses LOSSES IN VARIOUS PLACES.

Chicago, Jan. 26 .- Two two-story frame dwellings nd a cottage at the suburban town of Maplewood were burned to-day. Loss, about $4,500. Morris, Minn., Jan. 26.—The storehouse of George Darling and three business blocks were burned last night. The losses aggregate $35,000, with little

A METEOR SEEN AT OSWEGO.

Oswego, N. Y., Jan. 26.—A large and brilliant meteor was seen here last night. It appeared in the southern sky about ten minutes past 9, 25 degrees above the horizon. It seemed about twice the brilliancy of Venus. It moved horizontally from grew in size as it moved, and in the southwest broke nto three balls, each larger than the whole when first seen. Just before breaking it showed a red tinge, and after separation each part showed vivid green like the characteristic flame of copper.

NO STAGES IN FIFTHAVE, TO-DAY,

The stages on Fitth-ave, stopped running last night at half-past 11 o'clock. The efforus of Colonel Elhott F. Shepard have been successful, for the present at least, and the rolling sound of the emnibus will be absent from the fashionalle thoroughfare to-day. Twenty busses ran last Sunday, but the company decided that under the circumstances it was ad-visable to take these off the line also. Whether this will be a permanent change on not is difficult to say. Several members of the company bitterly oppose the new order of things and de-clare that they will do their utmost to have the so-called reform abolished and the Sunday stage rein-

A CONCERT IN AID OF A CHARITY FUND. Several well-known musicians and singers will take part in a benefit concert to be given at the Broadway Theatre on next Sunday evening by Clappe's 71st Regiment Band for the New-York Press Club's charity fund. No efforts have been spared to make the concert a success. Among those who will take part are Walter Damrosch, Anton Seidl, director of the Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra; Alvary, and Prederick Sax, the flute soloist. Miss Lillian Ruspear in some of her popular songs, and there will be other attractions to make the evening an enjoyable one. Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 212t, 1888. Messrs. A. J. Johnson & Co., publishers, 11 Great Jones.st., New York. Gentlemen: "The next few years will witness a great change in educational ideas. The possibilities of self-culture are to be emphasized, and the means of aid and direction increased. After a careful examination of 'Johnson's Universal Cyclopaedia,' I am convinced that while it is excellently adapted to the needs of professional and business men, it is eminently useful to the earnest, therough self-educator.

"This work, with its corps of contributors, offers accurate articles on the widest range of subjects. To the value of trustworthy information is added the inspiration of personality associated with great names. I heartily commend this Cyclopaedia to all, and especially to those who are pursuing self-set courses in the great university of life."
